

INTERDISCIPLINARY SEPSIS SYMPOSIUM

HOSTED BY THE CARLE ILLINOIS COLLEGE OF MEDICINE
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Join us for the second international Interdisciplinary Sepsis Symposium. This interdisciplinary gathering is designed to improve sepsis care over the next few decades

Meet world leaders in sepsis clinical research, big data/machine learning analytics, novel devices, groundbreaking immunology research, and the latest in education and training. We will also discuss policy and advocacy related to sepsis

Together, we will find ways to increase awareness of sepsis and its devastating impact, in addition to developing strategies in collaboration with policy makers, government agencies, and foundations.

Register: go.illinois.edu/sepsis

September
10-11, 2018

University of Chicago
GLEACHER CENTER

PLENARY SPEAKERS:

JEAN-LOUIS VINCENT, MD, PhD

Professor of Intensive Care medicine,
Universite libre de Bruxelles

Department of Intensive Care,
Erasme University Hospital, Brussels

DEREK ANGUS, MD, MPH, FRCP

Distinguished Professor and Mitchell P. Fink Chair of Critical
Care Medicine,
*University of Pittsburgh
School of Medicine*

Physician Director,
*CRISMA Center, Department of CCM, University of Pittsburgh
Schools of the Health Sciences and UPMC Health System*

RICHARD HOTCHKISS, MD

Professor of Anesthesiology,
Medicine, Surgery, Molecular
Biology and Pharmacology,
Washington University School of Medicine